

Miller & Rhoads

5,000 New Waists 1/2 PRICE AND LESS

69c, 98c, $1.29, $1.59, $2.45, $2.95 Worth Up to $7.50.

Biggest Purchase of Waists and Greatest Values Ever Known in Richmond.

This lot of Waists is a clean-up of a factory whose garments are known from one end of the country to the other as the very best in style, quality and finish.

We have all sizes in the collection and all sizes at each price, but not all sizes of each style at each price.

For example—there's 25 styles at 98c, worth $2. We can't promise you every size in each of these 25 styles, but there's an abundance of all sizes at this price.

It's the biggest purchase of the kind ever made by any Richmond house. The prices average half and less than the cost of the waists.

At the prices for which you can buy these Waists the entire five thousand should go out in two or three days.

Women should anticipate their Waist needs for the entire summer, as it will not be possible to duplicate these values again this season.

98c Worth $2.00 White lawn, with colored embroidered figures. Dutch necks, with hand-embroidered collars. Lawn with colored French knots. Shirt effects with the body of small tufts. Plain Linen Waists—about twenty-five styles in the lot; open front or back.	$1.29 Worth to $2.50 White lawn, entire waist trimmed with small pin tucking or fine embroidery. Pure linen trimmed with small tufts & embroidery. Lingerie Waists, trimmed with fine lace, embroidered medallions & small tufts.	$1.59 Worth $3 and $3.50 Allover Embroidered Waists. Fine Lawn Waists, with rows of fine embroidery, lace & tucking. Linen Waists trimmed with bands of baby Irish. Fifteen styles at this price.
69c Worth to $1.25 Plain white linens, with embroidered collars & cuffs. Dimity stripes, with laundered collar & cuffs.	$1.95 Worth to $4.50 Fine Lawn Waists, trimmed with lace & embroidery. Exquisite patterns. Half dozen styles at this price.	$2.45 Worth $5.00 Beautiful designs in Lace Trimmed & Embroidered Waists. Garments that retail regularly for $5.
$2.95 Worth $6 to $7.50 Your choice of six styles of the finest Lawn & Lingerie Waists, beautifully trimmed with lace & embroidery.

NO JOINT DEBATE, SAYS JUDGE MANN

Declines Tucker's Challenge for Ten, Then Raps His Opponent Hard.

CALLS ON HIM FOR PROOF

Again Denounces Charge That Liquor Men Are Backing Him for Governor.

Judge William Hodges Mann is firm in his determination not to meet his competitor, former Congressman Harry St. George Tucker, in any more joint debates during their primary contest for Governor. Having declined all other invitations since the Boydton meeting, Judge Mann yesterday issued his reply to Mr. Tucker's latest challenge for a meeting in each congressional district.

"I most respectfully decline to accept your proposition to have ten joint discussions throughout the State," says the judge in opening his letter of reply to Mr. Tucker, which consumes seventeen pages of closely typewritten matter. Judge Mann takes occasion in this letter to deny a number of statements alleged to have been made by Mr. Tucker, as well as to contribute to the public many reasons why he thinks he is entitled to the office to which he aspires, over his competitor. He repeats at length his former contention in favor of a campaign free from bitterness, and condemns the number of Mr. Tucker's recent assertions.

Petersburg Election. In discussing the Petersburg local option election Judge Mann says: "I have just seen in the newspapers your statement that I should have been at 'home' when the local option election was held in Petersburg last week. My home and voting place is in Nottingham county, as you must know. You have several times referred to me in your speeches as the Senator from Nottingham. This is hardly a fair way to seek to create the impression that I failed to vote when a local option election was held at my home, as you did when such an election was held in Lexington on March 29, 1930."

Judge Mann denies that he has accepted meeting Mr. Tucker at any point where they might happen on the same day, though he says that the campaign is proceeding to his entire satisfaction, for which, among other reasons, he does not care for joint meetings.

He charges Mr. Tucker with a lack of frankness in intimating that he voted for an amendment to the Byrd law to permit the taking of drinks on railroad trains. After explaining his position on the liquor question, he says:

"And while I am on this subject I want to say that you have been making all over the State a charge against me that is not in any respect true, and in making which you do me a gross injustice. At first you stated, or rather, insinuated, that I had made some deal with the liquor people for the purpose of securing their votes. I denied this charge and stated that its repetition by any one would bear the brand of falsehood. You then said that you accepted my statement as being true, but charged that such a statement had been made by some one for me, but you did not say by whom."

Calls on Him for Proof. "I say positively and emphatically that I am not such a liar as to make me or by any one for me; that no one has, or will have, authority from me to make such a deal, and that none will be made. You have not the right to go over the State making such an insinuation, and you know it. It has been time and time again denied. I know that the great body of liquor people throughout the State are actively opposing me, and if there be some of them supporting me, I hope they will differ from me on the liquor question. I will say that no proposition of any kind has been made by them to me, and I am not in any way connected with them. I have written letters of the same tenor and have sent the same literature to all voters, regardless of their views on the temperance question. I again deny your charge and call for your proof, and if you do not produce it, you should publicly withdraw your charge."

Judge Mann again attacks Mr. Tucker's record as a Democrat, defending his own course in public life, and retelling his former statements on the joint debates as constructive of harm rather than good to the party of which both the candidates are members. Although the statement is a voluminous one, it discloses but little of which has not been already brought out in the campaign.

Burke-Sullivan. Edward J. Burke and Miss Katherine M. Sullivan were married yesterday morning at St. Peter's Catholic Church, corner of Eighth and Grace Streets, at 8 o'clock by Rev. Father J. J. Sullivan, who was assisted by Rev. Father J. J. Sullivan, who was assisted by Rev. Father J. J. Sullivan.

BANQUET FOR MINISTERS Methodist Stewards Will Also Take Part in To-morrow Night.

Three hundred ministers and stewards of the Methodist churches in Richmond and Manchester will meet in the Broad Street Methodist Church to-morrow night at 8 o'clock for the annual social session and banquet. The devotional exercises will be conducted by Rev. B. P. Lipscomb, D. D., presiding elder of the West Richmond District. Rev. W. A. Christian, presiding elder of the Richmond district, will preside. These exercises will be held in the body of the church.

The banquet, which is to be held in the ballroom, is to be provided by the women, who have arranged an elaborate menu. Toasts for the occasion are as follows: "The Methodist Church," by Rev. B. P. Lipscomb; "The Methodist Church," by Rev. B. P. Lipscomb; "The Methodist Church," by Rev. B. P. Lipscomb.

HEAVILY ARMED NEGRO TO BE TRIED IN HENRICO TO-DAY To-morrow morning Magistrate Wright will try Floyd Jones (colored) who ran amuck at Lakeside several days ago, doing no damage but scaring a score of people. He is charged with carrying a dangerous weapon, a knife, and a razor, and with having a dangerous and dangerous weapon.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

JOPELLI CHARMED AS HER AUDIENCE CHEERS

Great Singer Given an Ovation at Midsummer Festival Last Night.

MORGAN SPEAKS FOR ORGAN

Makes Strong Plea to Have One Placed in City Auditorium. Matinee This Afternoon.

That Richmond is to become one of the leading musical centres of America, if the predictions of artists come for anything, was demonstrated last night at the City Auditorium. It is the grandest chorus I ever conducted, said Tall Eben Morgan, whose reputation is world wide, and to this Madame JoPELLI, the star performer, added: "Such an audience convinces me that Richmond is in future to be the centre of such attractions in the South."

The Midsummer Music Festival was conducted last night under ideal conditions. Every seat prepared for the chorus was occupied, and the chorus was well filled. Never before has an audience in this city extended such cordiality to a star as was received by Madame JoPELLI.

In her rendition of "Gallia," in which she was assisted by the chorus, the world famous operatic singer merited applause which continued for nearly half an hour. Twice the orchestra attempted to play, but each time the effort was drowned. Madame JoPELLI responded to the encore.

Madame JoPELLI did not confine herself solely to songs which have been heard at the Midsummer Music Festival. She sang "The Swanee River," and the demonstration following was as cordial as any ever received by an artist from a Richmond audience. Other songs were to follow, and the singer would not appear again.

Moved by the Applause. It was after she had retired from the stage after her last performance that Madame JoPELLI was interviewed by a reporter for The Times-Dispatch. "It is before such an audience as is present to-night that I am at my best," she said. "I feel that my whole soul is in my work when I am greeted with such hospitality. The chivalry of the South appeals to me, and while I have appeared before larger audiences, I never appreciated applause more."

It is for Richmond to say whether or not I will return. I am more than willing to come back. It seems strange that an operatic singer should talk this way about a city that is not noted as a musical centre, but I must say that I do not notice a person in the audience who did not join in the applause.

"I have never heard 'Gallia' more superbly presented by any chorus, and it makes me wish I could stay here long enough to practice with it. To think that without a rehearsal we should have gotten along so well together is something I never saw in my better acquaintance. The Auditorium is perfectly adapted to the holding of festivals, and there is really nothing lacking."

Willing to Come Back. Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

Madame JoPELLI's husband, who accompanied her to Richmond, seemed just as enthusiastic as his wife. "I have visited many cities with her," he says, "but we are very much pleased with the reception your people have given us. We leave to-morrow for Orange Grove, N. J., and will sail for Europe in August. We will spend next winter in America, and I am sure if Richmond will have us again, we will be glad to come back."

ORPHANS THROWN IN AUTO SMASH

Six of Mrs. Gill's Boys Escape Injury When Cars Collide on Boulevard.

GREAT DAY FOR YOUNGSTERS

Forty-seven Machines Have Boys and Girls on Their Annual Summer Outing.

Three hundred or more children from the various orphan homes in and around Richmond were the guests yesterday afternoon of the Richmond Automobile Club on an automobile outing to Idlewood Park. The program moved without a hitch, and the youngsters had the time of their lives. Besides the run to the Reservoir and on the boulevards around the park, they were entertained at a light luncheon in the maple grove at Idlewood, and afterwards they were the guests of the management of the resort, and were extended the privilege of every attraction on the grounds. Then came the thrilling auto race to town through the light falling rain, which increased instead of dampened their ardor.

Forty-seven Cars in Line. The start was made from Capitol Street at the City Hall. Forty-seven automobiles were in line, and each quickly filled. Dr. Lawrence T. Price and the other members of the club passed around badges for the youngsters, and the machines were decorated with small American flags. The parade setting machine pulled out of Capitol Street at 4:30 o'clock and proceeded through Ninth Street to Broad. With much puffing and blowing, the other forty-six cars followed close behind. Away they sped up Broad Street to Monroe, and Monroe to Grace Street. The line proceeded along Grace to Monument Avenue, and then to the Boulevard, the cars keeping in single file until all were on the Boulevard. There the parade ended, and the cars broke and went as they pleased.

Two Automobiles Collided. Only one accident occurred during the day. After the parade broke on the outward journey, and the cars were running around on the boulevards and roads west of the city, Henry Baskerville's car, which was being driven by a colored chauffeur, collided with Garret Nelson's car, which was being driven by a colored man. Both machines were rather badly damaged, and six boys were riding in Mr. Baskerville's machine. The boys were not injured. Mr. Baskerville's machine was badly damaged, the front axle being sprung, the radiator broken and the fenders torn off. The fenders on Mr. Nelson's machine were badly bent.

Car Put Out of Commission. When the collision occurred the driver of Mr. Baskerville's car was attempting to make a right turn. The car was put out of commission. The boys were not injured. Mr. Baskerville's machine was badly damaged, the front axle being sprung, the radiator broken and the fenders torn off. The fenders on Mr. Nelson's machine were badly bent.

After a half-hour's run around the boulevards and roads near the Reservoir, the cars proceeded to Idlewood Park, and were drawn up in the big maple grove. There the committee of women had spread all kinds of dainties, including ice cream, cakes and fruit, and the children feasted to their heart's content. The towering maple trees with their lofty branches shaded the tables from the sun, and a cool breeze made it thoroughly comfortable. The tables were decorated with vases of roses.

Had Big Time in Park. As soon as the luncheon was over the youngsters scattered everywhere. Many of the older boys went swimming. This seemed to increase the delight of the children, and the park groups, enjoying first one form of amusement and then another.

Like all good things, the day of sport had to come to an end, and finally the children were driven home. The arrangements committee and the managers of the homes got everybody together and preparations were made for the homeward journey.

One by one the boys were driven home, and then they began the homeward journey. Just before the start was made dark gray clouds hid the sun from view and soon a light rain began falling. This seemed to increase the delight of the children, and the park groups, enjoying first one form of amusement and then another.

Like all good things, the day of sport had to come to an end, and finally the children were driven home. The arrangements committee and the managers of the homes got everybody together and preparations were made for the homeward journey.

One by one the boys were driven home, and then they began the homeward journey. Just before the start was made dark gray clouds hid the sun from view and soon a light rain began falling. This seemed to increase the delight of the children, and the park groups, enjoying first one form of amusement and then another.

Like all good things, the day of sport had to come to an end, and finally the children were driven home. The arrangements committee and the managers of the homes got everybody together and preparations were made for the homeward journey.

One by one the boys were driven home, and then they began the homeward journey. Just before the start was made dark gray clouds hid the sun from view and soon a light rain began falling. This seemed to increase the delight of the children, and the park groups, enjoying first one form of amusement and then another.

Like all good things, the day of sport had to come to an end, and finally the children were driven home. The arrangements committee and the managers of the homes got everybody together and preparations were made for the homeward journey.

One by one the boys were driven home, and then they began the homeward journey. Just before the start was made dark gray clouds hid the sun from view and soon a light rain began falling. This seemed to increase the delight of the children, and the park groups, enjoying first one form of amusement and then another.

Like all good things, the day of sport had to come to an end, and finally the children were driven home. The arrangements committee and the managers of the homes got everybody together and preparations were made for the homeward journey.

One by one the boys were driven home, and then they began the homeward journey. Just before the start was made dark gray clouds hid the sun from view and soon a light rain began falling. This seemed to increase the delight of the children, and the park groups, enjoying first one form of amusement and then another.

Like all good things, the day of sport had to come to an end, and finally the children were driven home. The arrangements committee and the managers of the homes got everybody together and preparations were made for the homeward journey.

WOULD NOT TAX THOSE WHO LOSE

Candidate Tells Voters That City Committee Should Agree Upon New Plan.

SALE OF PROPERTY NOW CONFIRMED

Street Railway Lines Formally Pass Into Hands of New Syndicate.

Although Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., has not filed his order confirming the sale of the properties of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, the transaction became valid yesterday, as the time limit for filing objections expired at that time. The decree stated that unless complaints were made within eight days of the filing of the decree of sale, on May 24, the property would be considered as in the hands of the purchaser.

Judge Waddill is attending the session of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Asheville, N. C., and will probably be absent for several weeks. Nevertheless his absence, it is said, will cause no delay in the reorganization. Officers of the new company, all of whom represent the Gould interests as purchasers, were appointed at a recent meeting in New York.

Neither William Northrup, one of the receivers, nor Henry W. Anderson, attorney representing the purchasers, was in the city yesterday, and consequently no statement of the proposed plans for the future operation of the lines could be secured. It was rumored several days ago in court circles that certain of the bondholders would attempt to overthrow the sale, but these statements were shown to be without foundation when the time limit expired.

Probably the greatest benefit to result from the reorganization will be the adoption of a uniform transfer system, for which the Council has been working for several years. There is a case now pending in the United States Court in which the city is endeavoring to compel the company to change the present transfer system, but no action has been taken recently in view of the sale.

MAY GET FIFTY YEARS Willie Boyd, lead pipe thief, sent on to the Grand Jury on Many Charges.

Willie Boyd, the self-confessed lead pipe thief, answered to enough charges in the Grand Jury yesterday morning to send him to jail for a term of fifty years. Though he had made but $15 by his transactions, the damage he caused will mount up into the hundreds. His case was sent on to the grand jury.

The case against W. F. Denny, charged with forging the name of C. O. Saville, clerk of the Chancery Court, was continued to June 26.

May Reach Verdict To-Day. Evidence was concluded yesterday in the suit of the administrator of John Wade Collins against the Southern Bell Telephone Company and the city of Richmond in the City Circuit Court, and it is expected that the case will reach the jury to-day. Young Collins was killed by a fall from a telephone pole in the East End.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

WOULD NOT TAX THOSE WHO LOSE

Candidate Tells Voters That City Committee Should Agree Upon New Plan.

In the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience, nearly all the candidates for municipal offices to be filled at the approaching primary made speeches at Lexington Hall in the corner of Washington and Cary Streets, last night.

The meeting was under the auspices of the West End Social and Democratic Club, Louis Guernsey occupying the chair.

William Northrup, who is a candidate for re-election to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney, was the first speaker. He complained that Mayor H. H. Cary, was absent; therefore, Mr. Northrup confined himself strictly to a discussion of his own record. He asked re-election upon the ground that he has attended faithfully to the duties of the position during his incumbency.

Colonel A. W. Archer spoke in favor of John E. Epps for City Sergeant, the latter being detained by another engagement. Mr. Archer spoke in favor of "Smith and Epps, or Epps and Smith" for the office of Sergeant so long that the people wanted to pay.

He thought that the City Committee should return the assessments of all the unsuccessful candidates, requiring the winners to pay the entire cost of primary.

C. M. Angle represented James Anthony, who was detained at his home by sickness. The president read a letter from Sergeant Smith, stating that he, too, was unable to attend, owing to an attack of illness.

For the remainder of the evening Mr. Smith was absent. Mr. Satterfield said he would again refrain from discussing his record, which he has endeavored to do on several former occasions. The Marshall Ward Alderman was mild in his utterances, having only stated his platform and appealing for votes thereon. Clinton B. Stokes was the last speaker for the office of Sergeant. He advanced the reasons for his candidacy, and before given as to why he should be elected.

Following were the other speakers: For Sheriff, W. Collier Gibson; Adam Diament; Herbert Mercer; John H. Redwood; and J. J. Smith. Councilman C. P. Davis presented the excuses of John F. Don Leavy, who was unable to attend. Messrs. Wynt and Garrison presented their respective claims for High Constable, after which the meeting adjourned.

SALE OF PROPERTY NOW CONFIRMED

Street Railway Lines Formally Pass Into Hands of New Syndicate.

Although Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., has not filed his order confirming the sale of the properties of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, the transaction became valid yesterday, as the time limit for filing objections expired at that time. The decree stated that unless complaints were made within eight days of the filing of the decree of sale, on May 24, the property would be considered as in the hands of the purchaser.

Judge Waddill is attending the session of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Asheville, N. C., and will probably be absent for several weeks. Nevertheless his absence, it is said, will cause no delay in the reorganization. Officers of the new company, all of whom represent the Gould interests as purchasers, were appointed at a recent meeting in New York.

Neither William Northrup, one of the receivers, nor Henry W. Anderson, attorney representing the purchasers, was in the city yesterday, and consequently no statement of the proposed plans for the future operation of the lines could be secured. It was rumored several days ago in court circles that certain of the bondholders would attempt to overthrow the sale, but these statements were shown to be without foundation when the time limit expired.

Probably the greatest benefit to result from the reorganization will be the adoption of a uniform transfer system, for which the Council has been working for several years. There is a case now pending in the United States Court in which the city is endeavoring to compel the company to change the present transfer system, but no action has been taken recently in view of the sale.

MAY GET FIFTY YEARS Willie Boyd, lead pipe thief, sent on to the Grand Jury on Many Charges.

Willie Boyd, the self-confessed lead pipe thief, answered to enough charges in the Grand Jury yesterday morning to send him to jail for a term of fifty years. Though he had made but $15 by his transactions, the damage he caused will mount up into the hundreds. His case was sent on to the grand jury.

The case against W. F. Denny, charged with forging the name of C. O. Saville, clerk of the Chancery Court, was continued to June 26.

May Reach Verdict To-Day. Evidence was concluded yesterday in the suit of the administrator of John Wade Collins against the Southern Bell Telephone Company and the city of Richmond in the City Circuit Court, and it is expected that the case will reach the jury to-day. Young Collins was killed by a fall from a telephone pole in the East End.

ITALIANS INDOORSE MINITREE FOLKES

Whole Ticket Will Be Decided On at Secret Meeting on June 23.

By acclamation, the Italian-American Political Club at a meeting in Fraternity Hall last night endorsed the candidacy of Commonwealth's Attorney Minitree Folkes to succeed himself. Through representatives of other candidates were heard the members of the club decided to complete the ticket at a secret meeting to be held June 23. At that time the choice for every office will be decided upon, and the Italian vote of the city will be cast as a unit for the ticket endorsed by the meeting.

Because of the meeting in the West End last night very few of the candidates were present, though most of them had representatives there. J. E. Epps spoke briefly for himself. Mr. Lucas spoke for John L. Satterfield. J. H. Redwood, for Sheriff, was represented by his son. Letters were read by Secretary Emma from James Anthony and James C. Smith, candidates for City Sergeant, both of whom were sick last night.

BANQUET FOR MINISTERS Methodist Stewards Will Also Take Part in To-morrow Night.

Three hundred ministers and stewards of the Methodist churches in Richmond and Manchester will meet in the Broad Street Methodist Church to-morrow night at 8 o'clock for the annual social session and banquet. The devotional exercises will be conducted by Rev. B. P. Lipscomb, D. D., presiding elder of the West Richmond District. Rev. W. A. Christian, presiding elder of the Richmond district, will preside. These exercises will be held in the body of the church.

The banquet, which is to be held in the ballroom, is to be provided by the women, who have arranged an elaborate menu. Toasts for the occasion are as follows: "The Methodist Church," by Rev. B. P. Lipscomb; "The Methodist Church," by Rev. B. P. Lipscomb; "The Methodist Church," by Rev. B. P. Lipscomb.

HEAVILY ARMED NEGRO TO BE TRIED IN HENRICO TO-DAY To-morrow morning Magistrate Wright will try Floyd Jones (colored) who ran amuck at Lakeside several days ago, doing no damage but scaring a score of people. He is charged with carrying a dangerous weapon, a knife, and a razor, and with having a dangerous and dangerous weapon.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

Police Officer Killed. A police officer was killed yesterday morning in a collision with a car. The officer was driving a patrol car when it was struck by a car driven by a man who was driving recklessly. The officer was killed instantly.

"I'M NOT TO DIE," SAYS PLUCKY BOY

Ernest Anderson Brought to Hospital Here With Many Bones Broken.

With many bones in his body broken, and suffering from severe internal injuries, Ernest Anderson, a seventeen-year-old boy, was brought last night to the Virginia Hospital. An operation was performed. Dr. Hugh Taylor, after which it was reported that there was some chance of recovery.

Anderson was painting a roof when he lost his balance and fell ninety feet. His right leg was broken above the knee and his left below the knee. He also sustained a broken wrist and a broken collarbone. His body is terribly bruised, and it is feared that serious complications will develop.

"I know I'm not going to die," said Anderson as he was being carried from an ambulance into the hospital, "but I feel I'm broken all to pieces." The patient was entirely conscious until overcome by narcotics. No explanation of the accident could be secured, as the boy said he did not know what caused the fall. He was accompanied to Richmond by his father.</